Into City Hall

'Election woes' follow mayor

By JIM CARAVALLAH
Of The Eagle Staff

Romulus Mayor James C. Stewart's post election woes have moved from outside the City Hall, and a battle in the courts over the legality of his 13-vote victory, back inside the City Hall to a fight with another elected official.

A new skirmish in the battle between newly-elected James C.

Stewart and former Mayor Terry L. Troutt is evidenced in a difficulty between Stewart and the City Treasurer John B. Lewkowicz.

Stewart said he is trying to cut down on Lewkowicz' powers because he believes the treasurer, who ran with Troutt in the Nov. 4 general election, is "overstepping his bounds concerning what's under his authority."

And Lewkowicz maintains he is fighting to "retain the duties offered me under the charter."

The battle began when Stewart removed the Finance Department and Payroll Department from under Lewkowicz' jurisdiction and made both operations directly responsible to the mayor's office.

And then Lewkowicz responded by getting a change in the city rules regarding check signings to insure that only he has the power to validate checks with his signature, when in the past it took the signature of the mayor, mayor pro tem or treasurer to validate a check.

It reached the boiling point at the most recent Romulus City Council meeting, when Lewkowicz challenged Stewart on another point regarding bill payment, and resulted in an argument between the two after the meeting.

And it came to a head Friday, when a confrontation between the two "almost came to blows" in the opinion of one neutral observer.

"I think the treasurer is upset because he had a pretty good amount of freedom beyond his charter duties under the past administration, and I'm taking it away," Stewart said. "He'll just have to get used to another set-up."

"I need a Finance Department to aid me in preparing a budget and to advise me when the funds are being spent in the city."

"It's the treasurer's job to collect the taxes, deposit them and sign checks."

"But he was used to more." However, Lewkowicz said he believes that the new mayor is stepping in the way of the treasurer's right to perform duties.

"It's my duty to investigate whether checks are proper, and I wouldn't be permitted to do that," Lewkowicz said. "The mayor wants to change my duties, even though they're specified by the City Charter, so naturally I'll argue."

Both sides intend to find out if they're right with the help of an attorney.

Stewart will have the city's new attorney, Robert Reese, prepare a legal opinion on what the treasurer's duties involve.

Lewkowicz has sought outside help.

His attorney is William Munger the former city attorney hired by Troutt in 1973, and replaced by Reese.

Mayor probes city's budget

By JIM CARAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

Romulus Mayor James C. Stewart is almost half-way through his review of the city's budget.

And if the figures he has are true, he's alarmed.

According to Stewart Romulus had been committed to spend more money than it had received by Oct. 31.

"Until that date, the city had collected only 27 percent of its taxes, and during the same period, 32 percent of the funds were spent," Stewart said. "Had it continued, the city could have been in trouble."

But Stewart estimates that the $100,000 he "saved" by removing what he termed "deadwood" administrators from City Hall, and a rebudgeting will keep the city out of danger.

"I don't anticipate any lay-offs, though there will be four or five moves at the administrative level after the first of the year," Stewart said. "But there is a need for a new budget to correct some of the spending practices."

Stewart added that past practices in the city weren't illegal, in his opinion, but indicated that he questioned some of them before he became mayor.

"I voted against the administration's budgets for the past two years because I could see the problems coming," he said. "And now that I'm in office, I can see what they are."

"The problem is to insure that the budget remains balanced during the next six months, so that when I draw up my first budget, we can keep this city moving."

"I'm confident that it can be done. It will take some juggling to make it happen."

Mayor welcomes Santa

Romulus Mayor James C. Stewart presents Santa Claus with the key to the City of Romulus during tree lighting ceremonies at Romulus City Hall. At Stewart's shoulder is Recreation Director Marie DeBuyscher, who arranged the holiday lighting event on the grounds of the Romulus

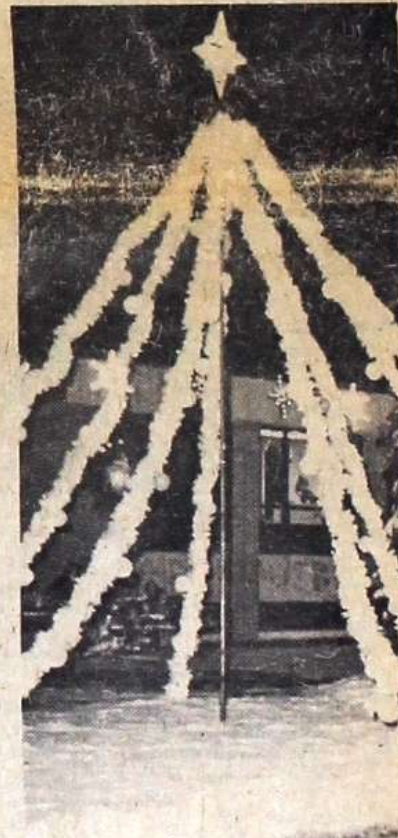

Civic Center. After Santa arrived, he adjourned to the Community Room of the Romulus City Hall to hear children's requests for gifts this holiday. — The Romulus Roman photo.

The magic switch

Romulus' Christmas Tree Lighting Child, Angal Burnett, is helped by Mayor James C. Stewart in her chore of flipping the switch to light the city's Christmas tree. Hundreds of residents gathered with their children for the annual holiday event last weekend. — The Romulus Roman photo.

Romulus children can take the example of five-year-old Virginia and six-year-old James Swiecki and drop Santa Claus a line. The children of James Swiecki will receive a reply from Santa because they got their letters in early at Santa's Mail

Carriers collect

Your Romulus Roman carrier will be collecting this week. This is one week earlier than usual. It will enable your carrier to greet you before the holidays and to allow your carrier to realize his or her route earnings for Christmas spending money.

Your carrier will be collecting at the new rate of $1 for the five issues this month. This will pay you through the issue of Dec. 31st. Your carrier is receiving a substantial part of the increase in price.

Stewart holds off on 'house' cleaning

Administrators in Romulus City Hall who so far have avoided dismissal by the city's new mayor have at least until after the holidays to hold their jobs.

James C. Stewart said for the time being he is done cleaning out administrators from Romulus City Hall.

"I couldn't remove people from their jobs this close to the holidays, so I'll wait," Stewart said. "I still plan some moves, and still intend to keep some administrators on the job, but nothing will be done until after the first of the year."

Stewart added that he removed the people from City Hall who he believed should go as soon as he assumed the mayor's job. In general, they were the administrators most loyal to defeated mayor Terry L. Troutt.

Stewart said he was confident that the remaining persons would handle their jobs without a problem until after the holidays.

"The people have been cooperative," he said. "It's a matter of finding the right persons to fit into my administration."

Stewart said he hopes to complete his administration moves soon after the holidays "because I need the right kind of people to handle the job of running the city."

"One of the first things we'll have to do is begin working on a new budget for the next fiscal year — one that reflects my priorities," he added. "I need the right kind of people to help me with that."

The mayor reported no new hirings to replace those administrators already received of their posts. "It takes time to have qualified people available," Stewart said.

City to get $$$ for building

Romulus councilmen may be pushing for a new District Court building after learning that obtaining funds for the present court building from the Wayne County Road Commission hinges on moving the operation out of the path of Detroit Metropolitan Airport expansion.

Mayor James C. Stewart said he is eager to settle the District Court matter because the city can use funds paid it under the condemnation of the present court building on Eureka Road to finance a new fire station in the southern section of the city.

"There's a need for a new station, and the best way to finance it is to use the money paid the city for the old court and existing fire station," Stewart said.

The city's southern fire facility is located next to the 34th District Court between the southern boundary of Metro Airport and the northern side of Eureka Road. The court will have to go before the airport can fence in land bounding on Eureka, and before the Road Commission widens the road to five lanes as it has in Taylor.

Stewart said he is recommending that the City Council follow the program agreed to by Romulus' former mayor, Terry L. Troutt, and officials of four other communities involved in the use of the court, even though it involves moving the facility outside of Romulus.

Plans call for constructing a low-cost building on land in Van Buren Township donated to the 34th District by the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA).

Besides Romulus and Van Buren, the City of Belleville and the townships of Huron and Sumpter are involved in the operations of the 34th District Court.

In addition, the Wayne County Road Commission, and the HCMA are expected to donate funds to the operation of the facility, most likely on a one-time only basis at the beginning of construction.

The five communities will divide the cost of operation among themselves during ensuing years.

Survival supplies can be lifesaver

Western Wayne County motorists should carry a homemade winter "survival kit" in their car trunk for roadside comfort even under the most trying emergency conditions, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

"The Thanksgiving weekend blizzard which last year stranded thousands of Southeast Michigan motorists demonstrates that being prepared for the unexpected can be a lifesaver," said Robert Smith, Auto Club Emergency Road Service manager.

Smith advises winter travelers to have the following equipment in the car and understand its use:

- Spare tire (inflated);
- Jack and lug wrench, but be sure drivers know how to operate the jack;
- Tire traction devices

such as chains, mats, sand bags;

—Tools such as pliers, screwdrivers, adjustable wrench;

—Flashlight, jumper cables, emergency flares and reflectors and a fog-type extinguisher;

—First aid kit, shovel with folding handle to save space, thermo blanket, gloves and knee-high boots and spray de-icer.

Providing survival supplies for auto occupants can make being stranded more tolerable, too," Smith added. "Store packaged or tinned food that will keep for long periods and not be affected by temperature changes.

Of special House committee

Rep. Owen suspends hearings

State Rep. Gary M. Owen, chairman of a Special House Committee to Review the Department of Licensing and Regulation, has said the committee has suspended all public hearings for the next several weeks to allow the panel and its staff time to conduct further investigations.

"The hearings and investigation the committee has conducted to date have indicated to us there are abuses and inequities within the operation of this department that require some intensive and extensive work in the weeks ahead," added "To this end, the committee and its staff will be conducting interviews with many employees of the department, such as the entire investigative staff, the administrative secretaries and the hearing examiners. The special committee does have subpoena power and will exercise it when necessary to assure the cooperation of all who are asked to come before the committee and to protect those persons from the fear of losing their jobs if they speak out. We also now have an attorney from the staff of the House Judiciary Committee who will be working with the present staff on these interviews and whatever is necessary to follow them up."

Owen said: "It is the purpose of the committee to correct any abuses and inadequacies we might find. We know they exist. The problem is to pinpoint those areas of abuse so we know exactly what must be done, where and how.

"In addition, I am sending a letter this week to both the House and Senate chairmen of the House-

Senate Joint Administrative Rules Committee, requesting that they place a hold on any rules that come to that committee from any boards within the Department of Licensing and Regulation and pointing out to them where some of the problems are with those rules. Several of the healing arts boards now are in the process of promulgating rules through this joint committee that are questionable at this point, and at least require time for further study."

"I also would like to request that any person, licensed by one of the boards under Licensing and Regulation, or who has attempted to be licensed, or who has had any complaint against a licensee, to contact one of the committee members or staff members, if he or she has information that could be of use in this investigation," Owen added.

Department offers report

The Romulus Building Department reports that the city saw the start of $347,000 in construction during the past month.

Included in the totals were $76,000 in construction for residential units and $271,000 in commercial and industrial work.

The department reported that two single family homes were begun, homeowners constructed eight alterations and additions and one building was demolished in November.

Included in the commercial totals were two industrial buildings, worth an estimated $251,500.

The department showed that a pre-engineered metal building on Crane Road near Wayne Road was constructed at a cost of $51,500 and an addition to the warehouse for Solvent Chemicals on Huron River Drive, worth $200,000, was started.

Good attitude necessary to bring development to city--Carmichael

Closing the gap between city government and private enterprise should help Romulus improve its economic development.

Hyle J. Carmichael, the city's former mayor and new economic developer, believes his job of promoting the community as a good place to develop will be easy, given a good attitude inside City Hall.

"Tell me what Romulus doesn't have," Carmichael said Monday, after more than a week on the job. "There are two major expressways, an airport and two railroads in the community, which makes it easy for a developer to find a good spot. In addition, there are miles of water and sewer lines installed to provide the needed services."

"Given an upturn in the economy, and a welcoming attitude in City Hall, development will boom." Carmichael, a former banker, and most recently a real estate broker, said he believes Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus is the catalyst the city needs for development.

"That's what brings the people to the city, and what attracts attention," Carmichael said. "There's room enough for the airport to function as an international facility, and now's the time to use it as a boost to the community's improvement."

The economic developer admits that the airport is a nuisance to some residents.

"But is it any worse than a highway or railroad track in your backyard?" he asked. "They're all bad to live by, unless they can be used to improve the community."

Carmichael said that the expansion of General Motors Detroit Diesel Allison division should prove to other businesses that Romulus is a good place to be.

"Let's face it, Romulus' salvation will be in industry," Carmichael added. "The business will improve when the attitude toward the national economy and government in Romulus, changes to point toward expansion."

"General Motors Corp. couldn't move any longer without expanding, and the same is true of other business. When the confidence in the economy improves, business will expand. Then Romulus residents will benefit."

Sen. Faust eyes law; Protects man's rights

Legislation to prohibit the use of any person's name, signature, or picture in a political campaign without written permission has been introduced in the State Senate by Sen. William Faust (D-13th District).

A companion bill will be introduced tomorrow in the House of Representatives by Rep. William R. Keith (D-33rd District).

Both legislators, who announced their plans at a special press conference yesterday, were victims of unauthorized use of their names in recent municipal campaigns.

Residents of Westland were inundated with campaign literature during the last days of the campaign, when conflicting endorsements from Faust were issued.

Faust's signature appeared on poll cards in support of both incumbent Mayor Eugene McKinney and the election winner, Thomas Taylor.

After the election, Faust said he has supported McKinney politically in any election he ever has been in. Taylor denied any involvement in the act.

A similar situation confronted Keith in the Inkster city election. Keith supported Terrel LeCesne against incumbent Mayor Edward Bivens.

Immediately prior to the election Keith's picture appeared with Bivens in a campaign pamphlet along with a statement showing the popular representative in support of the mayor.

Faust said: "I hope the Legislature will act quickly on this matter. For an unscrupulous or overzealous campaigner to literally steal the name and reputation of any person is intolerable action and must be prohibited."

Keith agreed, saying: "With the easy and inexpensive access to all types of duplicating and copying equipment, any person is fair game for any type of deception."

Faust said: "I would rather attack the bill on two fronts in the House of Representatives and in the Senate." He anticipates quick action.

The bill which will provide penalties for persons perpetrating fraud," he added.

The proposal already has been sent to the Senate Municipalities and Election Committee.

campaign act will label such action a misdemeanor, punishable by 90 days in jail or a $500 fine.

Yule 'wet blanket': fire prevention

Thanksgiving day once again has come and gone, and now all thoughts are directed ahead to another great holiday — a season of happiness, sparkling eyes, good fellowship and good will to men.

Shoppers by the hundreds scurrying to find just the right gifts for loved ones.

Now along comes the Fire Department and throws a wet blanket on it all. Our wet blanket is not intended to deter from the happiness we all feel at Christmastime, but rather to remind that in the midst of the festive season sometimes fire safety is forgotten and this joy can turn instantly into an ever remembered sorrow.

So if we may, just a few reminders to help insure a very happy and fire safe Christmas.

Early in the season, as now, before the heavy buying rush begins, our reminders are wrappings, decorations, and gifts.

Christmas just wouldn't be Christmas without the shimmering tinsel and bright, gay colors of decorations and wrappings.

We of the fire service urge the use of non-combustionable decorating materials. Untreated batting, flock, and paper are easy to ignite and burn intensely. But even some of these items can be flameproofed.

If candles are to be used, make sure you use good quality candle-holders. Don't ever use holders of polystyrene foam.

If it's Uncle Louis' turn to play Santa Claus, have him pick his costume with care. Select the Santa mask, whiskers and suit that have been flameproofed, otherwise Uncle Louis might be in a very hazardous position.

Don't forget to dispose of discarded gift wrappings promptly and safely, place them in a metal-covered trash container. Don't use the fireplace — it is not a safe place to burn these wrappings.

Every year the toy department in our stores seems to get larger and larger, with ever so many new and more exciting goodies for the kids.

Children sometimes in their eagerness forget safety, so we grownup kids must try and remember for them.

There are safe and unsafe places to fill and use that new airplane with the gasoline engine for instance. Inside the house is not the place. And be sure any electrical toy carries an Underwriters Laboratory (UL) label to show they have met shock and fire hazard standards.

As we see it

He will be remembered

Services were held Wednesday for Wesley Willett, former co-publisher of Associated Newspapers. Mr. Willett died in Garden City Hospital Saturday night after a year-long fight against cancer.

His death at age 72 marked the end of a long and good life. A life lived to the fullest in such a way that those who knew him can say they are a little better off for having known him. And this tiny part of our world is just a little worse off for having lost him.

He was a devoted family man, a tireless community worker and a good newspaper man. But most of all, he was a kind, decent human being who loved people and always was ready to help others.

Mr. Willett was an impressive figure of a man...

As a newspaper publisher and an employer, Mr. Willett always could find room on his staff for someone who needed a job — for someone who needed help. To be one of his employees was to be part of the family.

He'll be missed by many people in The Wayne-Westland Community.

He'll be missed by his fellow Rotarians and by members of the Detroit Adcraft Club where he could be found almost every Friday for lunch, sitting with other "Adcraft oldtimers."

Obviously, he'll be missed most by his wife, his two daughters and two sons, and by his father, who outlived his only son.

Mr. Willett also had 13 grandchildren and three great grandchildren, some of whom are too young to really have known what a great man their grandfather was.

Even though Mr. Willett has been out of active participation in the newspaper business since selling Associated Newspapers seven years ago, he still enjoyed talking about the business and could be counted upon to give wise advice to younger publishers who lacked his experience and understanding.

Mr. Willett was an impressive figure of a man, standing very tall and erect, with thinning white hair. He was a soft spoken individual with a sly smile always sharing his lips with a cigar.

Many people owed Wes Willett much and some did not repay him in kind, but he did not complain, nor carry a grudge, nor express ill will toward anyone.

Wes Willett will be missed but always well remembered.

Day clinic offers therapy services

By WANDA L. HARRIS
Administrative Assistant
HEGIRA PROGRAM

The Therapeutic Day Clinic provides many services to the community of Western Wayne County. This article, however, will deal specifically with our occupational therapy program.

Our occupational therapist uses individual and group avocational activity therapy to facilitate the desired personal changes set forth by the client, therapist and other concerned individuals.

While participating in the occupational therapy program, there are opportunities to experience, experiment and develop new talents.

An individual may be allowed to choose or to be directed toward ceramics, pottery, leather working, painting, woodworking and embroidery along with other varied types of arts and crafts. These activity therapy groups especially are useful with those clients who are uncomfortable in group therapy sessions where verbal exchanges are used as the primary means to encourage group interaction and personal growth. The occupational therapist in contrast uses activities as the primary catalyst for the group setting.

Clients who have difficulty communicating verbally are free to express feelings in nonverbal behavior. During these settings, a client becomes involved with others and begins to feel more comfortable in social situations. The client is able to increase his social skills and reduce his feelings of isolation and, thus, promote a feeling of belonging, increasing self-esteem and ego strengths.

Activities also may be used to increase a client's attention span, concentration, work tolerance and frustration tolerance.

The occupational therapist works along with the staff treatment team to increase the client's problem solving abilities and coping mechanisms. Also, the therapist helps the client who has difficulty following verbal, written or demonstrated instructions — all vital skills necessary for a successful adjustment to life and society.

The client during his treatment will experience and exhibit behavior changes which become the best point of reference of changes in the individual toward his relationship to peers, family and authority figures.

The occupational therapist who is responsible for the coordination of all activity therapy sessions at the clinic holds a bachelor of science degree in occupational therapy from Eastern Michigan University (EMU) and presently is field placement supervisor of occupational therapy student trainees from EMU. In addition to the responsibility of avocational activity therapy, he also conducts a recreational class, individual and family counseling, vocational testing and prevocational counseling.

Readers interested in learning more about the Therapeutic Day Clinic and possibly availing themselves of its services should contact our office from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday by dialing 565-0650.

Lawmaker causes uproar

By BOB BERG
Panax Lansing Bureau Chief

This is the story of the uproar one state senator can create by asking his colleagues to be more accountable for the way they spend state money on themselves.

It's a story of how much heat he can draw down on himself and of just how far other senators will go to stymie him.

It's a story you won't find in most civics textbooks. But it reveals very clearly the politics and motivations which drive some of the people here, particularly in the clubby atmosphere of the Senate.

It all started a couple of months ago when the magnitude of the state's current budget crisis started to become clear.

Senate Republican Leader Robert Davis (R-Gaylord) decided that if the lawmakers were going to ask state agencies to make painful cuts in their operations, the lawmakers ought to tighten up their own spending.

To accomplish this he proposed two steps: first a resolution requiring senators to itemize all items on their expense accounts and to provide receipts for all items $10 or more; and second, a freeze on hiring of new employees and staff salaries, a ban on mass mailings and out of state travel.

Davis got five Democrats and five Republicans to co-sponsor his resolution and introduced it. The resolution was referred to the Senate Business Committee, which is chaired by Democratic Leader William Fitzgerald of Detroit, the man who has approved more than $250,000 in new furnishings for Senate offices while the state fiscal crisis worsened this year.

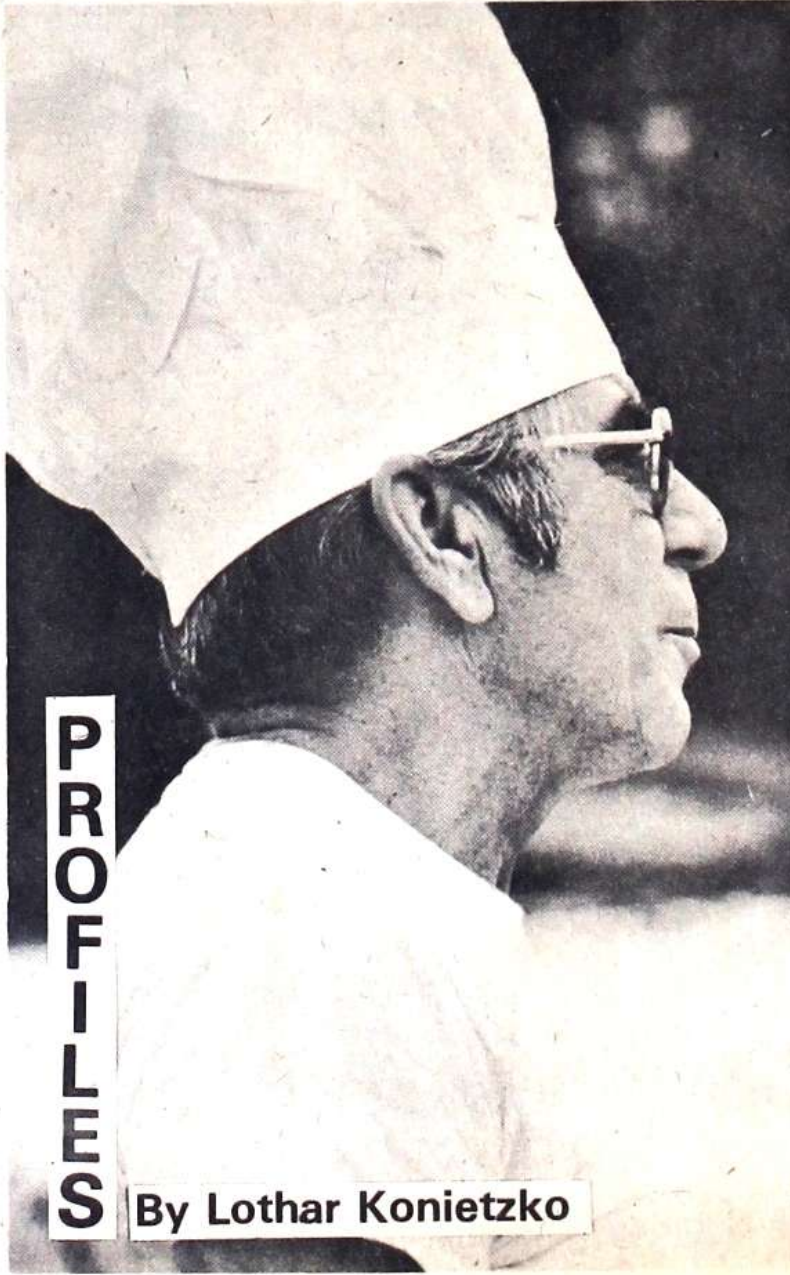

There was no way Fitzgerald could allow the resolution to pass and keep the backing of the men who put him in his leadership post.

His first move was to change committee rules, which previously had said all resolutions automatically were considered by the committee. Suddenly, they didn't get considered unless he wanted them to be.

Davis stuck by his guns, however, and Fitzgerald and his allies had to do something.

Suddenly, late in the afternoon the committee was scheduled to meet, cooler heads came up with an alternative — lowering the limit on unaccounted spending from $50 to $40 a day.

When the committee convened, Davis' resolution died for lack of a second motion. Then Fitzgerald's resolution passed unanimously, with Davis saying it was "at least a start."

'A Rest'

By Marge Laverty

Christmas is almost here again,
Let's make a change this year.
Let us come to your house, kids,
For a dinner that's all prepared.
Let me watch you cook the dinner,
And the aroma, I will smell.
Let me sit in the easy chair,
'Til I hear the dinner bell.

Let me eat till I am oh so full,
I'll be thankful for the dinner.
Let me enjoy my Christmas Day,
And feel like I'm a sinner.

And when the dinner's over,
And my tummy is so full.
Let me go and watch TV,
While the dishes, you kids do.

And when the kitchen's all cleaned up,
And you all sit down to rest,
I'll tell ya all the days I've lived,
This day has been the best.

Come on you kids that read my poem,
Give Mom and Dad a rest.
Invite them over to your house,
This year might be their last.

To the editor: This poem was written 'cause I like to write. Plus, I like true poems.

Secretary of state to explain program

Michigan Secretary of State Richard Austin will be in Western Wayne County next month to explain the state's new program for regulating motor vehicle service and repair businesses.

Austin will be at the Senior Citizens Activities Building of the Livonia City offices complex from 1 to 9 p.m. Jan. 14, and in the Inkster City Hall Council Chambers from 1 to 9 p.m. Jan. 21.

According to Austin: "The meetings will be conducted by staff of our department's Bureau of Automotive Regulation to help garage and service station operators find out which repair facilities must be registered and to assist them in completing any of the required forms and documents."

"At the same time, we will have staff people on hand who can answer questions about the consumer complaint process and about the certification of mechanics."

"These meetings are part of our all-out effort to be certain that the motor vehicle service industry in Michigan is ready for full compliance with the new law."

Michigan's Motor Vehicle Service and Repair Law generally is regarded as the most comprehensive law of its kind in the nation to date. It requires all businesses which provide more than minor vehicle repairs to register with the Secretary of State's office by March 1. At that time the Secretary of State begins receiving, investigating and acting on consumer complaints against specific repair facilities.

In valid complaints, the Secretary of State's Bureau of Automotive Regulation, whose staff includes field investigators located throughout the state, will attempt to assist consumers in obtaining appropriate adjustments. In addition, the Bureau will issue appropriate violation citations and take any legal action needed to bring a facility into compliance with the law.

Penalties include the suspension of a facility's

Faust: No legal jargon

A resolution aimed at simplifying Michigan's legal documents has been introduced by State Sen. William Faust, (D-Westland).

Faust's resolution urges all state departments and agencies to write their legal forms and agreements in language that can be understood easily by the "average citizen."

"Much of the legal documents written by state departments are complicated by technical and legal terms that most people don't understand," Faust said. "With the growing number of contracts and written agreements between the state and Michigan citizens, it is important that we write these agreements so that somebody besides a lawyer can understand them."

He pointed to a growing trend in the business world to write insurance policies and loan papers so that they are understood more easily by the average person.

"There is no advantage to needlessly complicating legal documents," Faust added. "The State of Michigan has a moral obligation to let people know what they are getting into when they sign a contract, this is a good way of fulfilling that obligation."

Copies of Faust's resolution have been transmitted to all state departments and agencies.

license to operate as a motor vehicle repair business, as well as possible criminal charges which may be filed by a local prosecutor or by the attorney general.

It is estimated that anywhere from 16,000 to 20,000 establishments in Michigan will be regulated under the new law. This includes most car and truck dealers and repair garages, as well as gasoline stations which do major service work.

The repair categories governed by the new law include autos, trucks—light and heavy—trailers and motorcycles. It will not affect business which perform only minor repair services, or such duties as changing or installing windshield wiper blades, light bulbs, tires and minor accessories. Also considered minor are lubrications, oil changes and several other non-critical adjustments and services.

Gals make All-Area debut

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Watch out boys, the gals are catching up. In fact, 27 young ladies who have proven swimming ability have been named to the inaugural Daily Eagle and Associated Newspapers' All-Area Girls' Swimming & Diving Team.

Many of the girls show times that are good enough to place them on many of the boys' varsity teams. In that category are Plymouth Salem's twins Susan Stanwood, who swims a 2:25.2 for the 220-yard individual medley and Marion, who covers the 500-yard freestyle in would-you-believe 5:26.39?

Salem also has outstanding performers in Chris LeClair, Tamie Crespo and Jim McCann. Miss LeClair's 2:20.6 for the 200-yard freestyle is second only to Belleville's Donna Keyser's 2:12.0.

Miss McCann is a key figure in the Salem 200-yard medley relay and also has posted a respectable 1:08.9 for the 100-yard backstroke.

McCann's time is second only to Churchill's Rene Cox's performance of 1:02.44.

Salem, which posted a 7-5 won-lost season, had a relay and three individuals - the most of any area team - qualify for the state Class A finals. The Rocks finished second in the league and tied Glenn for the championship of the inaugural Western Wayne Invitational.

Glenn has six swimmers on the All-Area squad including Tammy Rice, Kathy McGuire, Jean Sisson, Laurie Grogg, Jody Garbus and Rene Hudson. They formed the nucleus of a team that won six of its nine dual meets this season.

Miss Rice holds school records in the 50-yard freestyle (27.1) and was on the two-record setting relays. A senior, she has been on the varsity two years.

Miss McGuire holds the 200-yard individual medley (2:33.9), 100-yard butterfly (1:14.5) and 100-yard freestyle (1:01.7) as well as the 100-yard backstroke (1:10.5) records. She also is a member of the two record-setting relay teams and won the Northwest Suburban title in the 100-yard backstroke.

Miss McCann holds the 200-yard individual medley (2:33.9), 100-yard butterfly (1:14.5) and 100-yard freestyle (1:01.7) as well as the 100-yard backstroke (1:10.5) records. She also is a member of the two record-setting relay teams and won the Northwest Suburban title in the 100-yard backstroke.

Miss Sisson will have an opportunity to better her 6:44.1 in the 500-yard freestyle. She's a junior who'll be back next year. Miss Grogg, a junior, is a key link in the Rockets' freestyle relay team which holds the school record at 4:18.5.

Rene is a sophomore and has two more years of competition ahead of her. "Rene's an outstanding prospect and I'm sure she'll own many of the records before she graduates," said Jean Garbus, Glenn coach.

Mrs. Garbus' daughter, Jody, rounds out the All-Area swimmers from the Westland high school. A junior, Jody set the 200-yard freestyle (2:22.4) and 100-yard breaststroke (1:17.6) school marks this season.

Wayne's contributions to the coveted team include Sandy Parker, Sandy Baran and Terri Richardson.

Miss Parker played a major role in Wayne's drive to the top of the Great Lakes 8 Conference. She won gold medals in the 50-yard freestyle (28.7) and the 100-yard backstroke (1:13.6).

Miss Baran was crowned the league champ in the 100-yard freestyle (1:04.9). She is an excellent all-around swimmer.

Miss Richardson qualified for the state in diving and also was the league champ, setting a league record on the boards with a 334.6 performance. The 16-year-old junior also is ranked the second best diver in the area.

Livonia Franklin's versatile swimmer Sherri Konwerski is one of the top butterflyers in the area this season. She's posted at 1:15.0 in the event and is Coach Nancy Ware's lone representative on the star-studded team.

Canton's Cindy Shelanski and Jane Anderson earned their niches thanks to their outstanding efforts in the 200-yard individual medley and 100-yard freestyle, respectively. Though Canton had its problems winning this season, the two girls were always ready to give 100 percent.

Six swimmers were drafted from Carolyn Benninger's team at Livonia Churchill. They are the Cox sisters - Rene and Kim, Debbie Nuckolls, Mary Reid, Karen Turner and Mel Bryan.

All are members of either the No. 1 ranked 200-yard medley team (2:00.45) or the 400-yard freestyle relay foursome that has the second best time (4:11.4) in the area.

Donna Keyser, Dru Strobel, Janna Harris and Karen McDermid represent Belleville and Coach Harriet Rash's team. Miss Keyser, a senior, has been clocked in a 2:12.0 for the 200-yard freestyle, while Miss Harris' 1:09.5 is the top time for the 100-yard butterfly.

Dru is a standout on the diving boards and could be one of the best in the state next year.

Karen is also a freestyler who helps the Tigers win best time for the 500 is a points in the distances. Her 6:26.4.

PLEASED WORKER — Steve Buck (front) has found that the Job Placement Office at Romulus Senior High School really works. Kathy Ward, the office's director, referred Steve to an engineering firm in Lincoln Park where Steve now works along with another Romulus High School graduate, Samuel Thomas (rear). Steve is using his four years of training in drafting netted at the high school in his new job and is obtaining further on the job experience. The center works to find employment for Romulus graduates and is open to such job-seekers.

Job center places two

The Romulus Community Schools Job Placement Service has found jobs for two more of its graduates, Tareia Gray and Rodney Martin.

They have been hired by North Central Airlines at Detroit Metropolitan Airport as station agents. A station agent loads and unloads airplane cargo.

Other duties include operating different types of motor vehicles and sophisticated baggage handling equipment. Through use of hand signals, the station agent assists pilots to safely parked aircraft at the gates.

Filling out government flight forms, using flight movement reports and collecting weather information are other duties.

Miss Gray and Martin had to be high school graduates who are in good physical condition. Their training included being flown to Minneapolis, Minn. for a week and being briefed on all the particulars of their work.

The Romulus degree candidates were:

—Marilyn V. Banks of 36917 Mario Ann Ct., graduating from the College of Arts, Science and Literature with a Bachelor of General Studies.

—Fred Mena of 15457 Maple Ct., graduating from the College of Management with a Bachelor — of Business Administration.

—Alex T. Dazarena of 6016 Panasm, graduating from the College of Art, Science and Literature with a Bachelor of Science.

—Robert V. Selle of 29036 Ecorse Road, graduating from the College of Engineering with a Bachelor of Science in mechanical engineering.

Presiding at the exercises was UM-Dearborn Chancellor Leonard E. Goodall. Frank H.T. Rhodes, University of Michigan vice-president for academic affairs, was the featured speaker and The Rev. George Nicoloff, pastor of St. Paul's Orthodox Church in Dearborn Heights, delivered the invocation. Belleville wins own swim relays

Tigers claim 3 gold medals

Two area prep swim powers found themselves on the opposite poles of the final standings at the annual Belleville Relays.

Belleville captured its own relays, putting together three first places and 35 points to nose out Wyandotte, which had 31 points, for top honors. Fordson was third (27), Ypsilanti had 24 while Westland John Glenn finished with 10 points.

"I feel our boys were a little tired from Thursday's meet against Cherry Hill," said Belleville Coach Sam Vicchy. "We won an impressive one against them and during our relays we looked good only in spots." Glenn, meanwhile, was shut out from first places as Coach Al Wachtel explained: "We're young and need a lot of experience and meets like these help provide that necessary experience." Belleville won the 800-yard freestyle relay with Jeff Fogarty, Bill Ratti, Steve Lehman and Mark Stoelton (8:00.92), then picked up a gold medal when divers Hay Paponetti and Dana Thorpe compiled 213.35 points.

Belleville's 400-yard freestyle relay team of Jeff Fogarty, Dave Caincross, Harold Gable and Mark Stoelton teamed up for the winning time of 3:37.04.

Tigers win 2 in a row

If Belleville cage coach Tom Niemi can get the same mileage out of his offensive machine as he does his defense, he and his Tigers may go a long way this season.

Belleville held Plymouth Canton scoreless in the third period in a 54-37 triumph over their nonleague rivals last Tuesday, then came back Friday night to limit Redford Union to single figures in the first three periods before going on to win their first Suburban 8 Conference victory of the season, 56-43.

"The Redford Union game is the best we played this year," Niemi said. "We showed that we can do a lot of things well."

In fact, the Tigers did so many things well that with five minutes left against R.U. they had built up a 21-point lead, so Niemi emptied his bench.

Dennis Easley scored 21 points for Belleville, the game high, while Narvell Turner chipped in 13. Canton forced Belleville to struggle in the first half as the two teams were deadlocked at 8-all at the end of the first period while Belleville took a slim 22-21 edge at halftime.

Turner sparked a 16-point Belleville third period while the defense held the Chiefs scoreless and Belleville fiddled around the rest of the way.

Turner's 21 points led all scorers and Easley supported him with 17. Easley also is averaging four blocked shots a game.

The two victories pad Belleville's over-all record to 3-1 on the season. The Tigers will seek their second conference win in three starts Friday night at Edsel Ford.

Friday's results
Belleville 56, Redford Union 43; Edsel Ford 43, Dearborn 42; Plymouth Salem 79, Trarion 61; Allen Park 44, Livonia Bentley 58.

Reffitt earns EMU award

Eastern Michigan University head cross country Coach Bob Parks today announced that 10 members of this year's team have been awarded varsity letters.

Among the recipients is ex-All-Area harrier, Gary Reffitt of Belleville who received his third varsity award.

Senior co-captains Dave Burkhardt (Southgate) and Nick Ellis (Detroit Cooley) earned their fourth letters while another pair of seniors, Reffitt and Brian Williams (Howell) got their third awards.

In 1975 the Huron took third place in the Mid-American Conference and placed seventh in the NCAA District IV championships.

Individually, senior Dave Smith, also a former All-Area runner from Wayne Memorial, placed first in both the MAC meet and the Notre Dame Invitational.

Ellis took runner-up honors at Notre Dame and placed third in the MAC. Both Smith and Ellis qualified for the NCAA Championships and placed 54 and 49th, respectively.

Grapplers bow to Annapolis HS

Romulus learned why Dearborn Heights Annapolis is considered one of the powers to beat in the area this season on the mats.

Coach Vern Logan's Eagles mustered only three victories in losing to the Cougars 43-13 last week.

"They are a real strong team," said Logan, "and we weren't ready for them."

Romulus collected its points in the 112-pound class where All-Area grappler Lamar Sandusky won a 6-3 decision over Mike Hindmarsh. Rick Morrison also picked up a decision for the Eagles in the 126-pound class when he trimmed Gary McDermott, 9-2.

Annapolis forfeited to Romulus' undefeated heavyweight Ed Abbott.

Wayne's McPartlin picked Coach of Year

Mired in last place a year ago, Wayne Memorial's girls' swimming team captured the 1975 version of the Great Lakes 8 Conference championship.

And the man who took the team to the top of the standings was Coach Jim McPartlin.

McPartlin, in his second year as the girls' swim coach and his third as the head boys' swim mentor, guided the Zebras to a respectable 7-2-1 won-lost season.

Moreover, McPartlin has turned the program around to make a contender out of the Wayne swimmers. For his efforts, The Daily Eagle and Associated Newspapers have singled him out as our Swim Coach of the Year.

Is it harder to work with girls than with boys?

"No," replied McPartlin, "because I have worked with some of these girls in the age group program in the summer."

McPartlin's assistant coach is none other than his wife, Cheryl.

"It's a bit harder to motivate girls than boys admits McPartlin, "and my wife plays a key role in getting our team ready for competition."

McPartlin was an outstanding swimmer for Lincoln Park High and he continued to swim on the varsity level at Henry Ford Community College and Eastern Michigan University. He holds a masters in physical education.

Mahalak on panel

A State representative from Romulus, Edward E. Mahalak (D-38th Dist.), has been appointed to the new Special House Appropriations Subcommittee on Retirement.

"The new special subcommittee will study the fiscal implications to the state of retirement systems, retirement funds and levels of retirement benefits," Mahalak said. "It will be a far-reaching and important study, particularly in light of the state's present financial crisis."

After completing its studies, the subcommittee will report its findings and recommendations to the Appropriations Committee.

Other members of the subcommittee are Rep. Richard A. Young, James E. O'Neill Jr. and Melvin L. Larsen.

The subcommittee was appointed by Appropriations Committee Chairman Dominic J. Jacobetti.

Don't shovel snow and live

Would you invest $2.50 for a return of $375,000?

That's how much a Western Wayne County resident will make over the next 25 years if he is an American male, aged 40, earning $15,000 per year.

If this sounds like a good investment, consider the advice of the Michigan Heart Association. It suggests residents invest that $2.50 with the youngster who lives next door and have him do the winter snow shoveling.

It's not a sign of laziness to hire someone to shovel snow — it can be a sign of common sense. Especially early in the winter when residents probably are not used to heavy physical exertion in the cold weather.

If you do your own shoveling, there are several points to keep in mind:

—Dress warmly. Several layers of lightweight clothing are warmer than a single heavy layer.

—Rest often. If you're clearing your drive in the morning, start early so you'll have plenty of time.

Col. George L. Halverson, Director
Flat Rock, Michigan 48134
December 3, 1975

Mr. Elmer Parraghi
Sumpter Township Supervisor
23483 Sumpter Road
Belleville, Michigan 48111

Dear Mr. Parraghi:
On October 17, 1975, a telegram was sent to State Police Director, Colonel George L. Halverson by a Mrs. Judith Norris of Sumpter Township, alleging illegal actions by the police department and by township officials.

I did not conduct a formal investigation, but did contact many citizens in Sumpter Township to determine if an investigation was warranted. On November 25, 1975 I sent my reply to Colonel Halverson, and the following is a quote from that letter: "Since October 24, 1975 the Undersigned has contacted many citizens in Sumpter Township, as well as current and ex-Police Officers. The vast majority of citizens complaints have to do with the Sumpter Township Police Department. Almost all of these have to do with delayed response time which is due to manpower shortages, and with their police practices in general, in the handling of criminal complaints. The Undersigned has explained to these Citizens that complaints about police procedure can best be taken care of through the Township Administration. Many persons, including Mrs. Judith Norris, are difficult to convince that inefficiency on the part of a Police Department is not a matter of criminal negligence, and cannot be prosecuted in the courts. They have been encouraged to work with Township Officials and with the Police Department to re-build public confidence."

Police Officials in the area, as well as myself have the utmost confidence in acting Chief, Jerry Cox. I do feel that he would be better able to administer the operations of the Sumpter Department if he were promoted to Chief of Police.

The Sumpter Department, as well as many others, has a degree of inefficiency due to inexperience on the part of many of the newer Officers. Acting Chief Cox is aware of this and is doing everything possible to correct the situation.

The December 2, 1975 issue of the Detroit News contains quotes that were made by me. These include, that there is no evidence of criminal actions by Officers or elected Officials. The quote on a considerable amount of incompetence was not made by me, my feelings might include some amount of inefficiency, which is certainly present in any Department, including my own. I was dismayed at the News article and hope that it will not damage relations with the Sumpter township Police Department.

I would be happy to appear to speak with you on this matter, and will send a copy of this letter to both Acting Chief Cox and Township Attorney Hess.

Might I repeat again that the News article does not reflect my findings in this matter, and while there are improvements that can be made in the Sumpter Police Department, I feel that they are doing a good job with the resources available.

Sincerely,
Lieut. Robert J. Bellaire
Commanding Officer
Flat Rock Post No. 25

Motion by Hall, supported by Reeves, to close the Township Hall December 26, 1975 and January 2, 1976 to give the employees the extra time to spend with their families. Motion carried unanimously.

Also submitted was a review for study by the Board, of an irrigation pond to be located at Lohr and Harris Roads. Romulus schools co-sponsors career project

Exploration to assist students

The Romulus Community Schools is co-sponsoring a curriculum development project in the area of junior and senior high career exploration with the Wayne County Intermediate School District.

Romulus is offering teaching, counseling and administrative personnel to assist in the development efforts. Other districts involved include Detroit, Plymouth and Wayne-Westland.

The Career Exploration Project is designed to assist students by:

- Given specific information and experiences within sub-clusters of the general occupational clusters for eighth and ninth graders. (The trend moves away from in-school, simulated experiences to more community-centered activities).

—Focusing on skill-building in self-development, decision making, work attitudes, interpersonal skills and career playing for high school students. (Community resources will be used extensively).

The Wayne County Career Exploration Project is an integral part of continuing efforts for local agencies to offer career education to students, according to Daniel G. Pappas, director of the project.

The project is operating through the auspices of the Michigan Department of Education Career Development Services. Cas Heilman, Jim Englekist and Richard Gardner of Michigan State University are involved actively and provide consultative assistance to the project's curriculum development.

Controversial troupe to perform in Detroit

Reportedly the world's most controversial dance company will be coming to Detroit, Friday and Saturday.

The company is Maurice Bejart's Ballet of the 20th Century from Belgium. The 40-member company will give three performances at Music Hall Center for the Performing Arts, including Bejart's "Firebird," and his new "Ah! Vous Dirai-Je, Maman?"

According to a Music Hall spokesman, "we hardly picture Belgium as shocking, sensual or outrageous. Paris maybe, or Berlin." Those and stronger adjectives have been hurled at the Bejart troupe, including one critic who called the troupe's work "demagogic" and "warped," the spokesman added.

However, critic Claude Baigneriere in the French LeFigaro, called the company a "phenomenon ... unique in the annals of dance," while in Le Parisien Libere, "no one since Nijinsky in 1913 has been able to stage 'Sacre de Printemps' and Bejart's success...is a complete triumph," the spokesman said.

The dance company was brought first to America in 1971, and in its only previous appearance in Detroit, in 1974 at Music Hall Center, the company was critically acclaimed, the spokesman continued.

According to the spokesman, the commotion is caused by Bejart's ability to find and exploit a dramatic and spectacular ground between classic ballet and traditional modern dance, and his belief that "dance is an act of love." Unprepared for his theatrics, his bizarre formations — abiet performed to familiar strains of Mozart, Beethoven, or Berlioz — the result is controversy, he added.

Bejart will present his all new program in three performances at Music Hall Center at 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday and at 2 p.m. Saturday.

TREE-SHAPED TREAT — Bake and freeze is a recommendation for holiday planning that makes the whirl of holiday entertaining easy and enjoyable. For Christmas breakfast, a glazed, coconut-covered "Christmas Tree Bread" provides a centerpiece that's fruit-filled and decorated with green-tinted coconut. A delicious and pretty way to celebrate.

For your recipe file

'Bake ahead bread'

What's your food lay-away program for Christmas? Now might be the best time to bake and freeze some specialties before the holiday storm breaks.

Christmas Day, for example. Wouldn't it be great to greet it with mugs of steaming coffee and a glazed and coconut-covered "Christmas Tree Bread?" The bread tree (actually a fruit-filled coffee cake) can be brought from the freezer the day before Christmas and glazed, then decorated with green-tinted coconut, and perhaps a sprinkle of silver dragees as "ornaments."

Mounted on a tray, your radiant tree can serve as a centerpiece during the first course of your Christmas breakfast. But don't count on it to last past the final serving of coffee!

Here's another holiday idea: tinted coconut can be a holiday touch on cookies, cupcakes, cakes and sliced fruit, as well as your special "Christmas Tree Bread." Children love to shake the coloring and coconut in a jar and watch the pretty pastel flakes appear. Keep a jar of the tinted coconut handy in the refrigerator so your junior cooks can do their own thing with Christmas cookies.

Christmas Tree Bread

4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/4 cup sugar
5 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
Two-thirds cup shortening
1 1/2 cups (about) milk
Coconut Fruit Filling
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
Glossy Confectioners Sugar Glaze
Flaked coconut, tinted green
Sift flour with sugar, baking powder, and salt. Cut in shortening. Gradually add milk, stirring with a fork until soft dough is formed. Turn out on a lightly floured board and knead about 20 times. Divide dough in half and roll or pat each half into a triangular shaped piece, 1/4-inch thick. Trim a narrow strip from the base of each triangle; cut each strip in half. Place one of the triangles on a lightly greased baking sheet. Fasten two of the strips at right angles to the base to form a tree trunk. Spread Coconut Fruit Filling evenly over entire triangle to within 1/2 inch of edges. Moisten the edges and top with second triangle and remaining two strips; press edges together.

To form the tree branches, cut 4 angular slits on each side of the tree; carefully twist. Brush top with melted butter. Bake at 425 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. While still warm, drizzle with Glossy Confectioners Sugar Glaze and sprinkle with tinted coconut. Garnish with a cherry at top and silver dragees, if desired. Serve warm. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

To tint coconut, shake coconut with a few drops green food coloring in a covered glass jar.

Coconut Fruit Filling

1 cup moist mincemeat
1/2 cup flaked coconut
1/4 cup chopped candied citron

1/4 cup chopped candied cherries
1/4 cup chopped pecans
Combine all ingredients, mixing thoroughly. Makes 2 1/4 cups.

Glossy Sugar Glaze

1 tablespoon (about) hot milk or water
1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
Gradually add milk to sugar in small bowl, blending well, until mixture is thin enough to be spread. Makes one-third cup.

Parents Without Partners has church-oriented chapter

A recently-chartered chapter of Parents Without Partners, which serves single parents in the Western Wayne County-downriver communities, can only be described as "church-centered."

The emphasis on church means a program of activities and speakers appropriate for those preferring conservative topics, yet supplying fellowship and caring for those in need of it.

A no-drinking policy is upheld at any Crossroads function and those attending the meetings are expected to abide by the no smoking rules of the church where the meetings are held. The hostess at home meetings, committee meetings and similar gatherings decide individually whether smoking is permitted in their homes.

The Crossroads West chapter is non-denominational and no church affiliation is required of those attending meetings.

The chapter currently meets at the Allen Park United Presbyterian Church, 7101 Park at Cleveland in Allen Park, just south of I-94 and the Southfield expressways. Meeting time is 8:30 p.m.

Among the group's recent activities have been two picnic meetings at Van Buren Park (in Van Buren Township), hayrides, cook-outs and social functions in members' homes.

Crossroads West and other Parents Without Partners chapters are open to any parent alone. Any single parent, whether through death, divorce, separation or single parenthood, with or without child custody, is eligible for membership.

The group's registered membership currently numbers about 60 with some 10 persons from the Belleville, Romulus and New Boston area.

Officers are Joia Davis of Oak Park, president; Wilma Muse of Taylor, first vice-president; Linda Page of Taylor, second vice-president; Barbara Leon of Taylor, treasurer and Kathy Schwarz of Lincoln Park, secretary.

The next meeting of the chapter, a Christmas party, will be held at 8:30 p.m. Dec. 19. The Kennedy High School Choir has been invited to entertain.

Further information on the chapter may be obtained by calling Kathy Schwarz at 388-4920.

Prince-Hall vows read in Alabama

The marriage of their daughter, Martha Jean Hall, to Jonathan Maxwell Prince is announced by former Romulusites, Mrs. and Mrs. H.J. Hall of Huntsville, Ala.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a long ivory gown of silk organza styled with a Victorian neckline and bishop sleeves. A fingertip veil edged in venise lace was caught to a Juliet cap studded with seed pearls. A bouquet of ivory gladiolas, stephanotis and ivy was formed into a crescent to compliment her outfit.

The Nov. 8 ceremony was held at the home of the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Dennis Schard in Decatur, Ala. The Rev. Warren Hummel presided at the 6 p.m. rite with the bridegroom's cousin, Amy Jo Schard, playing organ music for the occasion.

Attending the young couple were Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Prince of Huntsville, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom. Their 4-year-old son, Eric, was ringbearer.

A reception for the 45 guests followed in the Schard's family room and patio.

The newlyweds spent a week honeymooning in New Orleans, La. before making their home in Huntsville.

MUSICAL NOTES

by Doug Brown

Ray Charles started his career singing like Nat King Cole. Because he started in rhythm and jazz before he moved into pop, he has an enormous audience. This means that his influence on the consumer is also very strong. In many ways Charles has changed not only the face of pop music, but the habits of the people who buy his records. Perhaps his album, MODERN SOUNDS IN THE COUNTRY AND WESTERN MUSIC, is his most historic. It would over a million copies.

Your musical headquarters in the Romulus-Wayne area is DOUG BROWN MUSIC, 9219 S. Wayne Rd. For last minute stocking stuffers see the great selection of accessories, sheet music, mouth pieces, picks, records and tapes. Happy Holidays to all from all of us at DOUG BROWN MUSIC...

U.S. friendliness impresses returning Swedish visitor

By Mrs. Joseph Spring
699-4021

After having spent the past three weeks with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. George Robson of Tyler Road, Nils Hammarstrom recently left for his home at Ockelbo, Sweden. His first trip to the United States, he was especially impressed with the good highways and the friendly people he met.

Mrs. Marie Ocholik of Willis Road has received word of the death of her son, Jerome Ocholik of Seattle, Wash. on Dec. 4 following a long illness. He was born and raised in Sumpter Township and was 44 years of age. A veteran of the U.S. Navy, he leaves a wife and two children besides three brothers and two sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKelvey of Bemis Road were recent dinner guests of their son, Glenn, his wife and family of Flushing.

Simmons recently returned to her winter home at Largo, Fla.

Funeral services were held on Dec. 9 at Trinity Episcopal Church for 97-year-old Eugene Burke Sr., a long-time resident of Liberty Street, who died Dec. 7 at Wyandotte General Hospital. Burial was in Hillside Cemetery.

Recent dinner guests of Mrs. Henry Sager and her brother, Marvin Meerse, of West Columbia Avenue, were friends, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sullivan and son Forrest of Ypsilanti, and Miss Ellen Gould of Willis.

Mrs. Clayton Saunders of Liberty Street accompanied her friend, Mrs. Harold Klais of River Rouge to Charlotte where they visited the latter's 95-year-old mother, Mrs. Edith Buckley, who is hospitalized with a serious illness. Later in the day they were dinner guests of Miss Dorothy Merritt of Eaton Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fleishans of Dearborn were recent afternoon callers on the latter's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Miller of Second Street.

After having spent the summer and fall with her daughter and family at Ypsilanti and many relatives and friends in Belleville, Mrs. Carl

For her third birthday party, Jamey Lna McCloskey wore a blue pantsuit trimmed with white lace, a gift from her grandparents, the Carl McCloskeys of Florida, formerly of Michigan.

For the occasion, Jamey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McCloskey, served a pumpkin cake decorated with pumpkins and turkeys — the work of Mary Lemanski.

Guests for the occasion included the young lady's God-parents, Edward Wenderski of Detroit and Sandra Wilson of Milford, as well as other relatives and friends from Rockwood, Brighton, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Quincy, Jonesville, Willis, Romulus and Belleville.

Jamey's 2-year old sister Shannon Marie also was on hand for the festivities.

SHERI MILLER

Sheri Miller receives WTA Christmas title

In a recent Christmas contest sponsored by the World Twirling Assoc. (WTA) a young Belleville girl, Sheri Lynn Miller, walked off with the top honors—the first place Queen Award. The program was held at Mason Junior High School in Mason.

The 10-year old fifth grader is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O.W. Miller of 47148 McBride, Belleville. A student at Quirk Elementary School, Sheri's baton teacher is Mrs. Carol Wheeler of Dearborn Heights.

Sheri, who has studied baton for two years, has already won awards in twirling, military, fancy, best appearing and fancy strut in competitions held in Woodville and Sandusky, Ohio and Detroit. For her latest accolade Sheri competed against 12 other girls in the 10-11 age group. The award makes her eligible to advance to the World's Most Beautiful Pageant in Atlantic City, N.J. on Dec. 28.

Besides her baton practice, Sheri is involved in a 4-H Club and lists small crafts and animals as her hobbies.

Check up on novels with medical themes

There must be a big demand for books involving the medical profession since so many writers seem to use the doctor figure as the basis for their novels. Elizabeth Seifert is one who deals almost exclusively with plots involving hospitals, their staffs and administrators.

For those who lean toward the M.D. and R.N. label, there's a bounty of interesting reading at the Belleville Public Library located at 167 Fourth Street.

FICTION

"Doctor in Love" by Elizabeth Seifert. The chance remark of a nurse is incorporated into a libelous novel with devastating results.

"Grand Rounds" by Harrison Hopkins. The appointment of a new dean of the New York Medical School is the focus of this novel about the people who run one of the country's largest medical centers.

"Four Doctors" by Benjamin Siegel. Four young doctors leave their big-city practices in search of a better life in a small upstate town.

"The Golden Acre" by Thyra Bjorn. A Boston physician plans to sell his practice and move to a remote area where his family will be safe and free from stress. But it seemed his family didn't want to be "protected."

For library fans who favor books with foreign intrigue, mystery, murder and even war backgrounds, the bookshelves in Belleville include a wide variety from which to choose.

FICTION

"The Legion of the Lost" by John Creasey. Dr. Palfrey and his colleagues try to locate the key doctors and scientists the Nazis have kidnapped and hidden away.

"Year of the Golden Ape" by Colin Forbes. The assassinations of two moderate Arab leaders pave the way for the destruction of Israel by a fanatical Shiek.

"The Boy Who Invented the Bubble Gun" by Paul Gallico. On the run to Washington to patent his bubble gun, Julian becomes involved in international intrigue and the search for a murderer and is held hostage by a grenade-toting psychopath. "Danger Money" by Mignon Eberhart. A secretary becomes the key figure in a murder case because she has seen the killer running from the scene of the crime.

"The Spy Who Sat and Waited" by R. Campbell. At the time of World War I, a German spy is placed in Scotland as a sleeper to spy on the British.

During World War II, he fulfills his mission but realizes later he has betrayed the nation that truly was his homeland.

"Blue Death" by Michael Collins. Dan Fortune gets involved in corporate maneuvering when he investigates a parking lot murder.

"Jessamy Court" by Anne Maybury. When her friend is paralyzed after the mysterious death of her mother, Rachel decides to impersonate the girl and learn the truth.

"The Wrong Case" by James Crumley. A private eye seeks his missing brother.

"How to Live Dangerously" by Joan Fleming. Martin Pendle Smith's decision to take in lodgers leads to theft and murder.

"The Trespassers" by Andrew Coburn. A policeman whose brother-in-law is being blackmailed takes the law into his own hands.

"Catnapped!" by Mildred Gordon. The further adventures of Under-cover Cat. Bogie, a young hoodlum, and his "auntie," who took him and reared him for a career in crime, kidnap D.C., the Randall's 20-pound black cat, and terrorize the Randall family until they agree to cash $300,000 worth of stolen bonds. The FBI can't do anything about the kidnapping of D.C., but it does go into action when it learns about the stolen bonds.

"The White Jade Fox" by Andre Norton. Sent to act as governess for a young relative, Saranna soon discovers a mystery surrounding the Oriental treasures housed in the manor.

MR. AND MRS.
PHILLIP RENKE SR.

Mass, dinner mark Renke's golden wedding anniversary

When Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Renke Sr. of Romulus renewed their wedding vows on Nov. 23, it was in the same church in which they were married 50 years ago — St. Stephen's of New Boston.

A special mass was celebrated at 8 a.m. during which The Rev. Alexander Wytrowski bestowed a Papal blessing on the couple.

On leaving the church the Renkes were surprised to find "limo service" — a 1929 Model A Ford — awaiting them. The vintage car led a motor procession back to the Renke home where relatives gathered to enjoy breakfast cooked and served by the grandchildren.

Later in the day a reception was held at the Romulus VFW Hall with some 180 relatives and friends attending. Playing host at the dinner party were the couple's five children: Genevieve Dugan, Mary Ann Banks, Phillip Jr., who proposed the champagne toast to his parents, and Ray, all of Romulus, and Pat Renke of Los Angeles, Calif. Adding a nostalgic touch to the festivities was the floral centerpiece at the head table which was an exact duplicate of Mrs. Renke's bridal bouquet. A three-tiered wedding cake also was part of the table appointments.

Among those congratulating the golden year pair, who were united in marriage on Nov. 21, 1925, were three members of their wedding party as well as Mr. Renke's two sisters and his wife's brother and sister. Others signing the guest book were from California, Detroit, Dearborn, Sterling Heights, Wayne, Romulus and Belleville.

Among the many gifts received by the couple were messages of congratulations from President Gerald R. Ford and Governor William E. Milliken.

The Renkes, who have resided in Romulus all their married lives, have a family tree which also includes 14 grandchildren; Patte Twitchell; Dan, Robbe and Sharre Dugan; Marilyn, John and Diane Banks; David, Steve, Janet and Julie Renke; and Lynn, Terry and Mary Margaret Renke, all of Romulus; and one great-grandchild, Derek Twitchell.

Work-study program may help collegians

A state-funded work study program for college students may be implemented for the first time in Michigan, under a measure introduced by State Rep. Thomas Brown (D-Westland).

Under the proposed measure, state funds would be permitted to subsidize jobs for qualified students in need of financial assistance. Employment would be parttime during the academic year and fulltime during vacation periods.

"This bill is the result of a study which was made on grants, loans and scholarships supported by public funds," Sen. Brown said. "During the course of the study, it became apparent that there was no state-sponsored employment program, enabling students to work toward paying part of the cost of their college education."

"This type of program has been successful on the federal level," Brown added. "However, there are many qualified students that the federal program does not reach."

The bill calls for an initial appropriation of $1 million for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1976. Public or private employers would be eligible to hire students through the program, if they entered into a signed agreement with schools to provide employment for recommended students. Employers would provide 20 percent of the wages earned by the students and could not utilize work-study students to replace regular employees.

"To qualify, a student must be a Michigan resident enrolled in at least a half-time undergraduate program," Brown said. "In addition, the student must be certified by the financial aid officer at the post-secondary school as needing employment in order to meet educational expenses."

The senator added that most of the work-study students would be paid at or near the state's minimum wage level of $2.10 per hour. Assuming an average hourly rate of $2.25 and an average of 1,030 hours worked per year, the bill would benefit more than 500 Michigan students.

"Friends are people you like. . . who like you right back!"

"Ziggy" (of the comics) said it

Begin with breakfast

Breakfast is probably more of a habit than an eating experience, especially with today's life-styles. Time seems too short in the morning to make breakfast a grand experience. But it is one experience you shouldn't skip.

Eat a well-balanced cereal breakfast and give yourself time to enjoy it. Try a nutritious breakfast of fruit or juice, a bowl of fortified oat flakes with milk, toast with butter or margarine and milk to drink.

Faith United shows 'Time to Run'

"Time To Run," a film that is a mixture of problems and solutions, will be shown at Faith United Methodist Church, located at Michigan Avenue and Denton Road at 11 a.m. Dec. 28.

Filmed on location in southern California by World Wide Pictures, "Time to Run" stars Ed Nelson, Randall Carvar, Barbara Sigel, Joan Winmill and Gordon Rigsby. Nelson plays Warren Cole, a hard driving success-oriented industrial and scientific engineer who, because of over-involvement with his work, has failed to communicate with his wife (Joan Winmill) or their son, Jeff (Randall Carvar).

"Time To Run" allows the viewer to become involved on any one to three levels. Viewed as entertainment, it's the story of Jeff's attempts at sabotage in the nuclear generating plant conceived, designed, and managed by his father. Jeff strongly feels that the plant is a threat to his environment, and he puts his feelings into action.

Viewed on an emotional level, "Time To Run" is a drama of the conflicts that are tearing a family apart — conflicts that develop between husband and wife, and between father and son. In an attempt to find freedom from the ever-growing hostilities, Jeff takes to the road, hoping to discover some meaning in his confused life.

Approached from a VINYL REPAIR SERVICE WE REPAIR OR RECOLOR ALL VINYL PRODUCTS Furniture-Offices Homes-Restaurants Hotels-Motels Cars-Boats-Campers "For Service Call" INVISIBLE VINYL REPAIR 722-5502 religious perspective, "Time To Run" is also a story of friction between Jeff and his girlfriend, Michelle (Barbara Sigel).

Michelle has discovered a spiritual dimension in her life, and this aspect is very confusing to Jeff, who has little time for a "God who would allow war, hatred, and suffering on earth." Free will offering will be taken during the showing to pay for the cost of the film.
